

BIOMEDICUM HELSINKI

BIOMEDICUM HELSINKI DAY

November 12, 2018, 12:00-14:00

Biomedicum Helsinki 1, Lecture Hall 1

Program

11:30-12:00 Coffee (Courtyard C2)

12:00-12:45 Opening

Presentations by three grant applicants

Timo Carpén, Supervisor Professor Antti Mäkitie:

High TIMP-1 serum levels are associated with poor prognosis in HPV-negative squamous cell oropharyngeal cancer

Young Scientist's Grant 2018

Noora Pöllänen, Supervisor Academy Research Fellow Eija Pirinen:

Improving mitochondrial function in muscle tissue with vitamin B₃ - a new way to promote metabolic health?

Start-up Grant 2018

Panu Luukkonen, Supervisor Professor Hannele Yki-Järvinen (1.3.2019-, Yale School of Medicine/ Professor Gerald Shulman):

Diacylglycerols dissociate steatosis and insulin resistance in the human liver

12:45-13.30 The 2018 Biomedicum Helsinki Lecture

Professor Satu Mustjoki, Hematology Research Unit, University of Helsinki (Medicum) and Helsinki University Hospital, Comprehensive Cancer Center:

Immunogenicity of hematological malignancies and immunological effects of cancer therapy: links between bench and bedside

13:30–14:00 Refreshments (Courtyard C2)

Welcome